U.S. Destroyers Meet Disaster In Fog

Seven Vessels Wrecked

Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 10.—Seven United States navy destroyers and the Pacific mail liner Cuba were wrecked Saturday morning and Saturday night, the navy vessels crashing on the rocks in dense fog off Arguello Light, 75 miles north of here, and the passenger steamer on a reef off the south head of San Miguel island 45 miles south of this port.

Twenty five enlisted men of the destroyers lost their lives in the naval disaster and all the destroyers were reported as total losses.

The Cuba was reported to have sunk during the night, but all passengers and members of the crew either were landed at Los Angeles by the destroyer escorts, or are on their way to San Francisco on board the Standard Oil tanker W. S. Miller, with the exception of Captain O. A. Holland, the purser, steward, and eight seamen, who remained on board to guard a shipment of $250,000 in silver bullion.

Dense fog was the cause of both disasters.

The destroyers Chauncey, Woolsey, Fuller, S. P. Lee, Nicholas, Young, and Delphy were all beached within a few minutes of one another according to naval officers.

The dead were all trapped in their bunks on the Young when that vessel struck, and it sank down and when the craft was sighted with ten minutes after striking.

More than 500 persons rescued from the wrecked destroyers, which last night, were reported to be pounding to pieces on the rocks, a total loss.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The hope was expressed today by naval officials that a tidal wave or other seismic disturbance, soaring from the Japanese earthquake, caused the disaster to the destroyer Division 11 off the California coast.

MANITOBA WHEAT CROP

Winnipeg, Sept. 7.—Manitoba's wheat crop will yield this year an average of thirteen bushels per acre, as compared with sixteen bushels over a ten-year period, it is estimated today by George Bathe, provincial statistician. The southern portion of the province will average less than eleven bushels and the northern areas from sixteen to eighteen bushels.

50 KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE AT CALCUTTA

London, Sept. 10.—Fifty persons are reported killed or injured in an earthquake which shook Calcutta today, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from that British Indian city. The reported casualties occurred in the Nymensingh district, where many houses collapsed.

ALBERT G. GLENDINNING

Crop Report

Issued by the Department of Agriculture Edmonton, September 7th

Cutting of wheat is practically completed in the southern half of Alberta, and the shocking is well started. Cutting of oats has commenced. In the northern portion of the province cutting of wheat is about 50 per cent completed, the grain having been somewhat slower in ripening in these districts. Threshing will not commence in the northern part for another week or ten days. Very little of the oat crop has been cut in the north.

The weather during the past fortnight has been showery in the northern districts, causing delay in harvesting in some parts. At the present date ideal harvest weather prevails. Reports of frost in one or two districts have been received, with slight damage to grain.

Sufficient threshing has not yet been done to verify estimates of yields, but early returns from the separators appear very favourable. Grain delivered to elevators in the southern districts has been grading chiefly No. 1, with some heavy individual yields reported.

Harvest Labor.—The labor department of the government has placed to date approximately 12,000 harvesters in the field, and this number has been supplemented by about a thousand who did not pass through labor bureaus. The situation now is well in hand, and the bureaus are sending a number of men every day. With continuance of the fine weather a redistribution of harvest help will occur that will meet any shortage that might be felt.

HARDING'S FORTUNE

Marion, O., Sept. 7.—The will of the late President Warren G. Harding, filed for probate here today, leaves to Mrs Harding a life estate of $100,000, the Harding home in Mount Vernon Avenue here, and a half interest in the building owned by the Marion Star. The total of the late president's estate cannot be determined until the appraisers report.

SHOULD LEAGUE OF NATIONS BE DISSOLVED

Falloden, Eng., Sept. 8.—"If the League of Nations is not used in a crisis such as the present Greek-Italian one, then it would have to be dissolved and Europe would be faced with the old state of things that existed before the war with competition in armaments and preparations for a new war, and in the long run a general war far worse than the last," Viscount Grey of Falloden asserted in an address here today.

"In the League of Nations," he said, "we have an instrument by which we can reach a settlement preferable to war. The real interest and security of ourselves depends upon the League's policy being upheld and in that alone is to be found the prospect of future peace security.

"I trust there is enough public opinion to uphold the league policy."

Viscount Grey said the crisis in foreign affairs was acute owing to what had happened between Italy and Greece, and that so far as his sympathy was concerned it was with Italy. But the crisis which has developed, he added, has transcended all sympathy. The real redress for the wrong done Italy would be adjusted after a full inquiry

THE LATE JOHN JENKINS

Death claimed one of our most esteemed citizens when John Jerkins passed away at his home in town on Friday evening, September 7th, after a somewhat lingering illness.

Born in Trecher, South Wales, on December 21, 1853, deceased came to the States in 1869, and to Canada in 1902, when he and family settled in the West River district. Mr Jenkins was an honest hard-working citizen, who had made good in this district, being looked upon as one of our most successful farmers. Of a genial and kindly disposition, he was willy known and held in high esteem. On account of advancing years and indifferent health, he relinquished the active management of the farm to one of his sons, and along with Mrs Jenkins moved to town, where they have lived for several years.

Mr Jenkins married Mary E. Lewis in 1878, and of this union four sons were born—Thomas, Gomer, Elias and Reuben—who are farming in the Ponoka district, and who, along with Mrs Jenkins, have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The funeral took place on Sunday from the Baptist church to Forest Home Cemetery, the Rev. T. E. Jeffreys, of Calgary, an old friend of the family, conducting the services.

Provincial News

ALBERTA COAL IN GREAT DEMAND

Were a freight rate in effect permanently which would put Alberta coal on a competitive basis in Ontario, orders would be on hand at once for at least a quarter of a million tons, declared Harold Stutchbury, trade commissioner of the province, who returned from what was virtually a tour of triumph through the eastern provinces. Mr Stutchbury was superintending the distribution of the 6,000 tons of Alberta coal sent east on the special rate of $8 a ton by the Canadian National. He visited many points in Ontario, accompanied by officials of the C.N.R., and all of these points were anxious to get Alberta coal, provided a freight rate was given that would make it possible.

ALBERTA BUTTER WINS MORE HONORS

Creamery butter from Alberta creameries won the championship, special prizes, and all first prizes at the Toronto exhibition just closed, according to word received by C. Marker, dairy commissioner. The provinces competing were Alberta, Nova Scotia, Quebec Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. This is one of the best records ever made by butter exhibits from this province.

VOLUNTEER FOR HARVEST HELP

Nearly 100 men students from the two normal schools in Calgary have volunteered for work in the harvest fields of the province, and have been granted leave for a month from their studies for that purpose.

MINERAL TAX

Payments of the provincial mineral tax are coming in slowly to the department of Municipal Affairs. This tax was put into effect last April, and is a tax of three cents an acre on mineral lands, including oil lands. The C.P.R., which has large holdings of this class, has appealed to the Federal government to disallow the legislation, and the Alberta Government has taken steps to contest his appeal.

BUFFALO MEAT GROWS

So fast has the Dominion Government buffalo herd at Wainwright grown that it is now found necessary to slaughter 200 head. A contract has been given for this to an Edmonton man, and a factory for the manufacture of pemmican from the buffalo meat to be established in Edmonton. The food is used extensively in the north.

World Insurance Against War

Nearly five years have passed since the signing of the Armistice put an end to actual hostilities in the Great War, to be followed the following year by the Peace Treaty and the creation of the League of Nations with its covenant designed to bring about the peaceable settlement of future disputes between nations. Yet the Allied armies are still in occupation of German soil and within the year the French and Belgian forces have penetrated further into Germany in an effort to compel recognition and payment of reparations.

Feeling between France and Germany is today possibly even more bitter than it was on the day the hostages sounded "cease fire". France, still fearing future German aggression, is determined to further cripple her traditional enemy and thereby provide an adequate safeguard against any recurrence of the horrors and devastation through which she passed between August, 1914, and November, 1918. Germany continues sullen and refuses to pay, insisting upon financial inability to do so.

Russia remains a menace to the peace of the world, distracted by all nations and distrustful of all. Turkey defeated in the war, emerges triumphant from the peace conferences because of jealousies and conflicting interests among the nations allied in the war. Suspicions are rife among all the Balkan states, each one more or less fearful of the other, each secondly awaiting an opportunity to wrest from the other territory which they covet or claim rightfully belongs to them.

The United States, whose representatives pulled a prominent part in bringing the League of Nations into existence and in framing its covenant, refuses to have anything to do with it and stands aloof in so-called splendid isolation from the entanglements which they fear would result from participation in the task of endeavoring to bring order out of the chaos in Europe. Meanwhile, economic ruin stares coming after country in the face, national currencies have lost their value, world trade is handicapped, resulting in millions of unemployed in Great Britain, the safest of all European Powers.

And now because the Italian members of a commission engaged in fixing an Albanian boundary line are assassinated, it is alleged by Greeks, the Italian Government serves an ultimatum on Greece, even before it is established that Greeks were responsible for the outrage, which is reminiscent of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia which precipitated the Great War, and because Greece does not immediately comply with all the terms of the Italian demands, Italy proceeds to bombard a Greek island and take possession of it, and, although a member of the League of Nations, practically repudiates her obligations to the covenant and declares she will withdraw from the League if it seeks to interfere in the dispute which has arisen with Greece.

Of what value is Italy, or any country, as a member of the League if it remains free to make war on another member? And yet the League of Nations offers the only hope to the world that, but as soon as it feels strong enough to do so, some nation will arise to save the world into the horrors of another Great War, and one which in its magnitude and slaughter would far surpass the one through which mankind has so recently emerged and which all but destroyed civilization itself.

Canadians sometimes ask themselves why they should be taxed to maintain the League of Nations, and why prominent British and Canadian statesmen should busy themselves traveling over the world lecturing on behalf of the League and encouraging the formation of branches of the League of Nations Society. But unless the world can again secure

Mrs Shattuck, of Water Glen, called at the Herald office the other day and left a magnificent bouquet of flowers, taken from her garden. The bloom and fragrance was beyond compare, and while Mrs Shattuck has to be congratulated on her garden—it must have cost a deal of labour—it should be an incentive for others to get into the work, for really flowers can be grown in Alberta.

THE RED MARSHAL

BY

GORDON CASSERLY

Author of "The Jungle Girl," "The Elephant God," etc.

Serial Rights Arranged Through Geo. MacLeod Ade, Publishers, Toronto.

His lofty air of condescending patronage annoyed me.

"Pestle! there's little look of the wilderness about her," I exclaimed impatiently, my eyes fixed on the beautiful girl. "Are you blind, man? Just look at the natural grace and dignity of her, the darling. See how she outshines the proudest beauties of the Court around her."

The other stared at me in amazement. I was never one to rhapsodize about the beauties of a woman, Colonel Fitzgerald laughed.

"Troth! me lad, it's unusually eloquent you are to-night," he said in English.

"Arrah, what's happened to the boy at all, at all?" exclaimed Dillon. "Sure I never——"

The Comte d'Armeville broke in impatiently.

"Why speak that barbarous language?" he cried. "Talk in French, so that I can understand you. What is it?"

Dillon shook his head waggishly.

"It is only that we are astonished," he said in French; "amazed, astounded. It is something new to hear Tim O'Rourke rave over a woman. Brian, my boy, in all the years we've been together in the regiment I never have known you do such a thing before."

I turned impatiently away from their raillery and was thankful that just then the curtain rose on the second act. But d'Armeville, who was an old friend of mine, laid his hand on my arm and whispered:

"Listen, mon ami. You admire the Princess? You wish to know her, n'estce pas? Good! You will be at the ball at the Tuileres to-morrow night, eh?"

"Yes," I replied.

"Hon. I shall make my sister present you to the fair foreigner, and you will be able to judge her beauty at close range."

I looked at him gratefully as he turned away to rejoin his former companions. Little as I cared for all the society of ladies, I seemed to feel that it would be happiness to know that beautiful girl, and every woman else's attention was riveted on the stage. I, too, looked at it but my eyes fixed on her. She seemed absorbed in the open-bodice and the ballet which followed; and I could feast my fill at her undetected. The more I looked the more she fascinated me. Her very lack of the conventional aids to beauty made her appear to me far lovelier than her painted and powdered sister ladies-in-waiting, renowned though they were in every court in Europe for their beauty.

In the intervals I drifted away quietly from my comrades to look at her, their careless remarks about her and their good-humoured banter would be unbearable. As I passed along the parterre or through the foyer by groups of officers of the regiment or of perfumed and silken-clad young exquisites I was frequently halted by acquaintance or detained by friendly hands for an amiable exchange of salutations. And I found that the character princess had been universally remarked and almost as universally admired. Doubtless some of the more Frenchmen her foreign costume and apparent neglect of the usages of society made her seem uncouth, almost barbarian. I remember that one dainty lady, the Vicomte de Prenilles, lazily flicking a few grains of powder from his bedizened wig and with a flimsy lace handkerchief held in fingers covered with jewelled rings and almost hidden by the long cuffs of his cuffs, drawled such sneering comments on her foreign appearance that I was strongly tempted to chastise the puppy. But, despite my hot Irish blood, I was not quite devoid of common sense; and, realising how absurd it would be to quarrel with an ignoramus for such a reason, I shrugged my shoulders and moved away.

During the last interval as I was standing alone in the central foyer Dillon came towards me with an officer in the uniform of major of the Regiment of Artillery. As they reached me my comrade said in English to his companion:

"Here is another of Ours, major; only he has deserted us for a staff appointment. Let me present to you," and he stepped back and bowed in his usual jocose manner to us both, "my old friend The O'Rourke of Brefni, Comte de Brefni in the peerage of France, Chevalier of the order of St. Louis, Captain in the Queen's Dragoons, aid-de-camp to Lieutenant-General the Marquis of Lafayette, and good fellow generally. At least, the latter only," he added, shaking his head gravely, "when he has me to guard his morals and my example as a pattern to follow."

"This, Brian, is Major O'Donnell of the Artillery, who among his other claims to our admiration and respect numbers as not the least of them the fact that he has just returned from our native land."

I eagerly questioned him about the old country, but all he could tell me was the usual miserable tale of poverty and oppression.

"Poor Ireland!" sighed Dillon. "I'd give ten years of my life for a chance to strike a blow for her against the Sassenach. O'Rourke has done something; for he fought the English with Lafayette in America. But I—well, let us hope that peace between France and England won't last long. It never is."

Major O'Donnell shook his head.

"France will not go to war again soon," he said. "You know—we all know—how unprepared she is. The Treasury empty, the Army weakened, the people discontented. With the Parisians, always turbulent, are ripe for rebellion——"

"The canaille!" cried Dillon. "A dose from your guns would do them good."

"My men would not fire on them," said the major sank his voice as he spoke. "The Army is tainted with ideas of republicanism and equality since the American War."

"Even Lafayette is reputed to believe in the Divine Right of Kings," said Dillon. "Is it not so, Brian? He is not welcome at Court and never goes to Versailles. Or you either?"

"Well, we are both going to the Tuileries to-morrow night," I answered.

My lieutenant laughed outright.

"Don't pretend that it is to prove your loyalty that you are going, Brian," he said. "Oh, ma bouchal, that it should come to pass that a pair of bright eyes should affect you, the woman-hater, to a ball! I'd not have believed it possible, had I not overheard d'Armeville's whispered promise to you just now."

"Oh, nonsense, Dillon," I retorted, feeling my face flushing. "I meant to go all along. I am to accompany the general there."

"Nabochkin, the devil doubt you! I'll warrant twenty louis that you'd have found some way of bucking out of the duty," said my tormentor. "And there's been no foreign Princess there."

"It is not unusual for the Court to let the Tuileries be used for the entertainment of Her Majesty to show herself otherwise to her none too loyal Parisians. You may have heard how they applauded the acquittal of the Comtesse de Hotham in the affair of the diamond necklace and cheered him in the streets."

"Mother of the damned scum believe that the Queen stole it," broke in Dillon hotly. "They openly accuse her of it in their cursed pamphlets and lampoons. I say, again, the best medicine for these disloyal Parisians is a dose from your guns, major."

O'Donnell smiled.

"And you say very much the same as a young lieutenant of artillery when I know in Paris," he remarked. "He is, like ourselves, a foreigner, a Corsican named Buonaparte. He advocates, too, as a cure for popular discontent what he terms 'a whiff of grape-shot.' However, our talk is somewhat dangerous, I'm not sure. We may have some of the police spies reporting it to Monsieur de Crosne, the Lieutenant of Police."

"Yes, perhaps we had better——Ah! there is the bell announcing the start," I said. "The curtain is going up again."

We returned to the theatre, the others to look at the ballet, I to lean against the wall of the foyer and gaze up at the face that had so fascinated me.

We were near the exit, so that, when the performance ended and the house filled with a fashionable crowd of the audience pressing forward eager to bow low to Their Majesties as they passed through to the carriages, I managed to make my way to the central rank. I was thus able to get a close view of the foreign Princess among the bejurred and brocaded ladies-in-waiting who followed the Royal train. She passed within a few feet of me, looking neither embarrassed at the unpopular favourite of the queen, the Comtesse de Polignac. She was with two jewelled ones to their right and left, and almost hidden by the long cuffs of his cuffs, drawled such sneering comments on her foreign appearance that I was strongly tempted to chastise the puppy. But, despite my hot Irish blood, I was not quite devoid of common sense; and, realising how absurd it would be to quarrel with an ignoramus for such a reason, I shrugged my shoulders and moved away.

During the last interval as I was standing alone in the central foyer Dillon came towards me with an officer in the uniform of major of the Regiment of Artillery. As they reach

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Yonker, Sask., writes:

"I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have billous attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. THIS MAN TELLS YOU HOW TO KEEP FIT!

Bear River, N. S.—"My back was so bad I could hardly work. I was always tired out and had no ambition—was not ambitious to do anything, and everything seemed to worry me. I also had terrible pains in my right side. I felt badly for about eighteen months, and could not do my work as it should have been done. I tried several doctors, and also bought about $25.00 worth of put up medicines, but I found no relief until I took Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Doctor Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid) Tablets. I have taken two bottles of the Discovery, and four of the Anuric Tablets, and can say that I feel as well as I have felt for the last ten years. I advise any sufferer to give Dr. Pierce's remedies a fair trial. I cannot recommend them too highly for what they have done for me and shall be pleased to answer any one who cares to write me."—Norman E. Trimper, R. R. 1.

Baron de Grenaut, Colonel of Artillery, in the Faubourg St. Germain, offered me a seat in his carriage; and talking of our native land we drove swiftly together through the dark streets. When we arrived at the Porte cochere of the Hotel de Grenaut I insisted on getting out and refused the major's kind offer of the carriage or of an escort of armed lackeys to conduct me to my house. After mutual farewells and promises to meet again, I drew my cloak closer around me and set off on foot to my lodgings in the Passage de la Visitation, heedless of the footpads who infested Paris at night.

Arrived at my habitation in the quiet little cul-de-sac, I was admitted by the concierge at my first knock and ascended the stairs to the rooms I occupied on the third floor. My odd-jobman, Blake, one of the Wild Geese who still winged their flight from their native land, driven abroad by English misrule in Ireland, was waiting for me. Taking my hat, cloak and sword, he said:

"The Marquis of Lafayette's man's been round months, captain, and a letther for your honour. 'Tis there forinst ye on the table."

As he helped me to the cloak, he added with the friendly familiarity of an Irish foster-brother:

"I'm thinkin' it's to dinner he'll be after axin' you. It's quite a while since we sittied wid a frind."

Breaking the large wax seal, I opened the letter and ran my eye over it. You're right, Blake," I said. "'Tis for to-morrow before the ball at the Queen's Palace, to which I am to accompany him."

New Proposals Modify Demands Upon Greece Made By Italians

Paris.—The Council of Ambassadors sent a note to the Greek Government embodying proposals for the settlement of the Greco-Italian controversy. The proposals somewhat modify the demands made upon Greece by Premier Mussolini. While they have not been officially disclosed, it is understood they contain the following terms:

First—The Greek fleet to pay honors to the Italian naval squadron at Piraeus, which shall be accompanied by a British and a French warship; the Greek fleet saluting the three allied flags with 21 guns; the inter-allied ships to enter port without saluting.

Second—A memorial service in be held in the Catholic Church, attended by all the members of the Greek Government. During the service the ships in the harbor will fly their flags at half-mast.

Third—Military honors to be paid when the bodies of the victims are placed on board ship.

Fourth—Greece to deposit the sum of 50,000,000 lire as a guarantee for the payment she may be called upon to make.

Fifth—An international commission, presided over by a Japanese, shall control the Greek investigation.

The text, which was sent to the Greek Government at Athens, received the unanimous endorsement of the allied representatives, but beyond saying, "the council has reached an important, perhaps decisive, stage in the settlement of the conflict," no information with an official stamp was available.

Baron Avezzano, the Italian ambassador, made no pretence of hiding his satisfaction as he left the meeting. He told the Italian correspondents that the decision likely would find favor in Rome.

It is understood that the council decided to appoint a commission to investigate the murders of Italian members of the boundary commission, which will be headed by a Japanese. The question of indemnity, it is understood, will be held in abeyance until this report is made to the ambassadors' council, providing that Greece maintains its offer to deposit fifty million lire as security for paying the amount the council fixes.

Crossing Atlantic In Frail Craft

French Seaman Trying to Win 500,000 Franc Bet.

New York.—Eighty-four days out of Gibraltar alone in a battered 35-foot sloop in heavy seas about 200 miles off Nantucket light, F. Gerbault, a French seaman, refused a tow to port offered by the Creek liner, Byron, Capt. Vihlis related when the Byron arrived here.

After explaining that he was crossing the ocean on a bet of 500,000 francs and that two other schooners which had left Gibraltar with him had disappeared, Gerbault asked that his empty water keg and food kits be filled and went on his way.

Mr. Musselman Makes Denial

Says He Did Not Predict that Pool Would Be a Failure

Winnipeg.—Denial that he made the statement attributed to him by a local newspaper that "present indications are there will be no voluntary wheat pool in Saskatchewan to handle the 1923 wheat crop," or that "failure of Saskatchewan to go ahead with the scheme would make it practically impossible for Alberta to operate successfully," was the statement made by J. B. Musselman, Managing Director of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company.

The reporter interviewed me in respect to the various conferences being held twixt farmers' companies and the pool committees of Alberta and Saskatchewan on matters connected with the wheat pool project," Mr. Musselman said. "My reply was that there was no hitch for the press except the names of those in attendance, and that there would probably not be until the conferences were over. I did not say anything for publication, and I emphatically deny having made the statements attributed to me.

"The position of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company in relation to the efforts to establish a wheat pool, from the very inception of the movement, is well known to all in responsible positions in the present pool organization. That I have at all times been in full accord with the other directors of the company in this matter is also known to them, through frequent friendly interviews and conferences. During the past two days I have been here in Winnipeg in constant personal communication with them."

Vancouver.—After an illness of two months, the death occurred in Vancouver General Hospital of Mrs. Burns, wife of Patrick Burns, widely known Calgary cattle man.

Mrs. Burns was Eileen Ellis, daughter of Thomas Ellis, of Penticton, and was married to Mr. Burns in 1901. She is survived by her husband and one son. Mr. Burns, who has been in Winnipeg, left for the coast in response to word that his wife's illness had taken a serious turn. Mrs. Burns was 51 years of age.

Many Nations Are Rushing Assistance To Stricken Japan

London.— News of the earthquake reaching London from Japan continues sparse and conflicting, and it still is impossible to form any idea of the real extent of the disaster. It would seem that whatever sources of communication are available probably are being monopolized by the Japanese Government and the authorities for humanitarian purposes—securing the most effective aid in the terrible circumstances.

All the countries of Europe are volunteering all possible assistance. They are raising funds, sending warships and aircraft to provide food and other necessaries for the stricken people. The columns of the British newspapers are much occupied with reports from commercial firms having relations with Japan concerning the safety of their representatives, but in these circles it is difficult to ascertain anything with certainty, and it is believed it will be a long time before the details of the catastrophe are fully known, for even the European Governments are finding it almost impossible to learn the fate of their own representatives.

The Central News reports that its Tokio correspondent escaped on board the capital Saturday and after many hardships arrived in Kobe with other refugees. He sends the following:

"Early estimates of the loss of life and damage to property will be found to be much too low. It is now known that the dead will number 200,000, with the financial loss as much as five billion yen (12,500,000,000)."

Although the Emperor and Empress and the regent escaped with their lives, there has been a heavy death toll among the other members of the royal family. The Government is facing the situation with great gallantry. Premier Yamamoto and Home Secretary Goto have taken upon themselves the work of distributing temporary relief at Tokio, and are using 5,000,000 yen of the government reserve for that purpose. The cabinet ordered the mobilization of the army, and the first and second squadrons received orders to rush food supplies to the stricken districts and to prepare to transport refugees.

"It is estimated that 500 foreigners are dead in Yokohama. The late of the Belgian and German ambassadors is unknown, although it is rumored they are safe. Relief parties are now rushing to the scenes of the disaster, and order is being gradually restored. Rebuilding work is expected to commence very shortly. The Government has ordered the whole rolling of timber to be conveyed to the devastated capital."

The British Government and people are doing everything possible to aid Japan. The foreign office announced that the admiral commanding the China squadron had been ordered to purchase foodstuffs and other supplies and to proceed forthwith with the fleet to Japan and place the supplies at the disposal of the Japanese Government.

In addition to the opening of a Mansion House fund, which the Lord Mayor of London always does if there is a public disaster, and which already is receiving contributions and support from ministers and public men, another body—the Salvation Army—is taking active steps in the same direction.

Another Crop Prediction

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Would Not Be Surprised If It Reaches 400,000,000 Bushels

Toronto.—"If the frost keeps off an other week, the west will have the greatest crop in its history. Don't be surprised if it reaches 400,000,000 bushels. It will go a long way to putting that great part of Canada back on its feet."

This was the opinion expressed by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture in the Federal Government.

Hon. Mr. Motherwell remarked that the meaning of so great a crop was almost beyond the imagination in its effect on the general welfare of the country.

Speaking of the crop in a more specific way, the minister said that Alberta this year was almost free from rust, and would perhaps exceed all its records by volume. Rust was damaging some other parts, particularly in Manitoba and also here and there in Saskatchewan, but despite this, the total result of the harvesting would be marvelous.

Speaking to 200 farmers, guests at the Canadian National Exhibition directors' luncheon here, Mr. Motherwell said Canada had reason to be optimistic. "The note of gloom is no good," he said.

Mr. Motherwell rejoiced that Canada had rossed out the United States as a wheat exporter, and if the frost did not touch this year's crop, the country's prediction that it would not Canada would export one hundred million bushels more than its southern neighbor.

Sir Hugh Poynter, cousin of Premier Baldwin and Rudyard Kipling, made an earnest plea for Canadians to forget party ties, if necessary, in order to lend the old land their sympathy and support in the present world crisis.

Hail Insurance Rate Fixed

Directors of Saskatchewan Association Decide on 18 Cents Per Acre

Regina.—The fixing of the hail rate at 18 cents an acre was the principal business transacted at a morning session of the meeting of the Directors of the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association.

The directors present were George F. Edwards, Vice-President, Rosthern; R. J. Moffat, of Bradwell; J. W. Cairns, of Carnduff; J. R. Near, of Pinkham; Joseph Hill, of North Portal, and E. C. Whitcomb, of Spiritwood.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Hingley said apart from fixing the rate the directors transacted routine business of no importance. "So far as can be seen at present," he said, "it is not expected that the year's losses will be quite as heavy as those sustained in 1921, which was a particularly bad year from a hail insurance point of view. We have some 4,800,000 acres insured representing about $4,000,000 worth of insurance. Besides the rate of 18 cents an acre fixed today there is the flat rate of four cents an acre on all land except fenced quarter sections, which are explicitly withdrawn."

U.S. War Craft Scrapped

Spectacular Show Is Staged By Airmen In Dropping Bombs

Cape Hatteras, N.C.—A spectacular show staged by United States army airmen over this famous graveyard of ships, marked the beginning of the scrapping of United States war craft required under the naval limitation treaty.

The ships destroyed were once the proud Virginia and New Jersey which made up a part of the United States battle fleet.

It required just 26 minutes for the sinking of the Virginia, eight planes flying at an altitude of 5,000 feet according for her with thirteen 1,100 pound bombs. The New Jersey, after two attacks, was still afloat, but was listing badly, in part as a result of the dropping of 602,000 pounds of bombs close beside her hull. Few direct hits were scored on her and her superstructure was only slightly damaged. A plane flying low sank her at the third attempt.

Toronto.—Efforts are being made to secure the co-operation of the Siberian Government in ascertaining the fate of Alan Crawford, the Toronto boy, and his two companions, who started across the ice from Wrangel Island in January of this year, and have not been heard of since. John Anderson, Secretary of the Stefanson Arctic Exploration and Development Company, said that a cable had already been sent to Mr. Stefansson asking him to make the necessary arrangements.

R. D. Waugh Returns

Will Administer Manitoba Liquor Laws Impartially and Fearlessly

Winnipeg.—Winnipeg gave a royal welcome to ex-Mayor R. D. Waugh, who left four years ago to perform the duties of a member of the Saar Valley Commission, appointed by the League of Nations, and who returns as chairman of the Manitoba Liquor Commission, a post which the Provincial Government asked him two months ago to accept.

He made the statement that his colleagues and he on the commission would administer the liquor act impartially, fearlessly and justly. Mr. Waugh spoke humorously of the situation.

"I did not bring a barrel back with me on the train, but I can assure it's on the road," he asserted, and he added, "you remember I left here as water commissioner, as chairman of the Greater Winnipeg water district; now I return to you as whisky commissioner, and the two should make an excellent combination. The one should suit not only the dry people but the wet people. And I hope the administration of the act will be entirely successful."

Joins Wheat Pool

Members of Regina City Council Favor Participation

Regina.—The City Council, at their meeting Sept. 5, voted unanimously in favor of entering the Saskatchewan co-operative wheat pool, and marketing the city crop through the medium of the pool. The resolution was passed after G. F. Blair, city solicitor, had expressed an opinion that the city was not signing any contract that would prove detrimental to its interests. He added that the city, by renting its property, would automatically be released from the contract.

Practically all members of council spoke in favor of pool participation. The opinion was expressed that the city would materially assist in the organization of the pool through signing the contract and, as Realty Tax was dependent upon the agricultural success of this district, the city should turn over its crop to the pool.

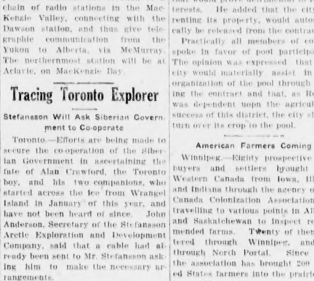
American Farmers Coming

Winnipeg.—Eighty prospective land buyers and settlers brought into Western Canada from Iowa, Kansas and Indiana through the agency of the Canada Colonization Association are travelling to various points in Alberta and Saskatchewan to inspect recommended farms. Twenty of them entered through Winnipeg, and 60 through North Portal. Since January the association has brought 200 United States farmers into the prairies on tours of inspection.

To Organize Exhibit

Regina.—A meeting of Saskatchewan livestock breeders will be held here shortly to organize a provincial exhibit for the Chicago International show in November.

SKIPPER'S CAT PLENTY JOSS



Captain A. J. Hailey, R.N.R., master of the Empress of Canada and his favorite cat, "Speed."

"Speed" has first say on the big ship.

This cat, according to Captain Hailey, does everything including talk.

The Empress of Canada had a cat on board when she left Britain's shores, but when Captain Hailey took "Speed" aboard at Vancouver, it was on the upper deck, and the Canadian cat took this as a sign that he was to be supreme in the upper works of the ship.

Rover, the cat that was part British and part French, and understood the continental parley better than the rear of the lion, strutted forward to meet "Speed" when he docked here, but the effect was electrical.

"Speed" arched his back, hegotiated a Shanky swing, and a Corbett hook, and finally made a roller coaster out of Frenchy as the latter sought refuge in the engine room. Since that incident, Rover has been confined to the cabin decks.

This does not mean that "Speed" does not go below. By instinct this cat knows when the Chinese crew is celebrating and frying grasshoppers. The bit eat is fond of this particular dish and never fails to share it when the special gong rings.

Captain Hailey tells a good story about "Speed." Several prominent Chinese were visiting the master of the ship in his cabin in Shanghai, and "Speed" was occupying a cushioned chair near the Captain's elbow. One of the visitors had the regulation Imperial finger nails, and stretched the long and tapering horns out on the table at times to emphasize his remarks.

Captain Hailey noticed the cat watching the long nails, and every time the Cathay fingers moved out on the table, "Speed" stretched his beautifully carved nails out in imitation of the visitors.

In a storm, "Speed" will seek the rigging of the ship, and in a high fallette do a nocturnal watch that makes the blood of the man on the bridge run cold.

On the whole Captain Hailey says "Speed" is the most entertaining cat he ever owned, and the Chinese say he is a good Joss, and keeps bad luck away.

More Hopeful Reports On Japanese Disaster Now Being Received

London.—The appalling nature of the Japanese earthquake, fire and tidal wave, with the greatest loss of life and property, of any similar catastrophe in modern times, continues to be told by meager and unconnected press dispatches and private messages from foreign residents and tourists who survived the holocaust. But Europe still awaits the graphic story of how the earth shook, to pierce, and then consumed in flames, Japan's capital and scores of towns around Tokio Bay, including the great commercial port of Yokohama.

On the whole, the news received is of a more hopeful nature than any since the disaster, one authoritative message from a British naval official at Yokohama placing the deaths of foreigners in that port at only 70.

The only official estimate is based on home office information from Tokio, that the loss of life there was 20,000.

All available information shows that Kobe and Yokohama were not totally destroyed, the foreign residential district of the port city, which is on a high bluff, overlooking the bay, escaping comparatively little damage, while the residential suburban districts of Tokio also escaped.

The destruction in Tokio extends only a few blocks of the metropolitan district of 15 wards, with the low-lying districts completely wiped out. This section also includes Tsukiji, in which the Japan Times was completely ejected to the western nations, foreigners were compelled to reside. It has recently been occupied principally by missionaries, their schools and hospitals and Buddhists.

In other sections of Tokio, Asaku, Shiba, Akasaka, Yotsuya and Ushigome, where the foreigners live in houses isolated in their own compounds, consisting of a few western style houses, built on small hills, the damage was by fire, which, on account of the number of open spaces, could be controlled.

Elevator Tariff Not Changed

Grain Commissioners Refuse Application For Increased Rate

Winnipeg.—Applications of elevator owners for increases in the tariff of charges on grain have been refused by the Board of Grain Commissioners, it was announced by Chief Commissioner Leslie J. Boyd. Terminal elevator owners had made application for an increase of half-a-cent per 100 pounds for handling mixed grains, and country elevators asked the right to charge half-a-cent per bushel for cleaning wheat.

A minor change in the regulations permits terminal elevators to deliver screenings of an average quality as taken "from time to time as may be deemed necessary by the Inspection department." Previous regulations provided for "the same quality of screenings as taken from the car as shown by the grain inspector's test," and the owners declared it was impossible to comply with this provision.

Rockslide In B.C.

May Be Due to Earthquake Disturbances Sweeping Borders of Pacific Ocean

Victoria, B.C.—Rockslides that killed two men in Nanaimo mines may have been due to earthquake disturbances which have been sweeping areas bordering on the Pacific Ocean during the last few days, and which caused the destruction of Japanese cities, it is believed by officials of the British Columbia Mine Department here.

This belief is supported by records of Gonzales Heights observatory here that earthquakes like other slowly recorded earth tremors which indicated that large areas of land are settling down after the shocks that rocked them late last week. This settling movement, it is believed, may have caused the serious rockslide that occurred in Nanaimo.

Canadian Food For Japan

Food and Supplies Go to Japanese Relief Commission at Tokio

Ottawa.—The dispatch of emergency food supplies on the Empress of Russia is merely preliminary to further assistance which will be granted to Japan, Premier King stated. He explained that he had asked Consul-General Ohta if he could indicate the kind of assistance which the Government of Japan would prefer Canada to give, but the latter, who has not yet received any communications from the Japanese capital, was unable to make specific requests. It was agreed, however, that food, especially that adapted to the use of those persons who might be injured and suffering as a result of the disaster, should be sent to the Japanese relief commission at Tokio.

The Premier said the Government was also looking into the question of whether vessels of the Merchant Marine would be available in carrying supplies collected from Canadian ports to Japan.

Should Use Canadian Ports

St. John, N.B.—That the maritime provinces co-operate in the suggested scheme to have a representative visit the manufacturers and shippers in Central and Western Canada to impress on them the duty of using Canadian ports for the shipment of their goods overseas was a suggestion made at a conference between representatives of the Board of Trade and the Commissioner of Harbors.

Livestock Perish

Buenos Aires.—Thousands of cattle and sheep with an estimated value of 5,000,000 pesos, are reported to have perished in an unprecedented four-day snowstorm that raged in the territory of Las Pampas.

Canada Utilizing Empire Markets

Other Nations of Commonwealth Could Deal More With Dominion

Ottawa.—Declaring that Canada is taking advantage of Empire markets much more fully than Empire countries are utilizing Canada's markets, a strong appeal, it is understood, will be made at the Imperial economic conference to be held in September, through an exhaustive memorandum, for more attention by Empire countries to the part this Dominion is able to play in the trade of the commercial commonwealth.

"A detailed analysis of Canada's present commercial position," the memorandum will show, "suggests that the most obvious need for Empire development, so far as Canada is concerned, either as a greater market for Empire products, or as a greater source of commodities for Empire consumption, is for other Empire countries to concentrate more effectively upon fewer in Canada's markets.

Manitoba Crop Estimate

Winnipeg.—Manitoba's wheat crop will yield this year an average of 13 bushels per acre, as compared with 16 bushels over a ten-year period, it is estimated by George Bathe, Provincial Statistician.

The southern portion of the province was averaging less than 11 bushels, and the northern areas from 16 to 18 bushels, according to Mr. Bathe's report.

Airplane For Forestry Patrol

Ottawa.—A Vickers-Viking air boat piloted by Major H. D. Hobbs, officer commanding the Winnipeg R.C.A.F. unit, left Ottawa recently for the west. It will proceed to Victoria Beach on Lake Winnipeg, there to engage in forestry patrol and survey work.

Alberta Decides To Go Ahead With The Wheat Pool Project

Winnipeg.—Developments in the wheat pool situation throughout the west might be summarized as follows:

Alberta decides to go ahead with the project, although only 45 per cent. of the acreage is signed up, instead of the 60 per cent. originally stipulated to be necessary.

Conferences between Saskatchewan and Alberta pool officials and elevator interests at Winnipeg failed to reach a decision for the use of Elevators.

J. B. Musselman, Managing Director of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevating Company, in an interview, expressed the view that from present indications there will be no wheat pools operating in either province to handle this year's crop.

In a statement issued here, A. E. Wilson, President of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, replied to the statement made by J. B. Musselman, Managing Director of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevating Company, in which Mr. Musselman said that from present indications there would be no wheat pools operating in Alberta and Saskatchewan to handle this year's crop.

In the words of the Saskatchewan pool to date, Mr. Wilson said the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company had rendered valuable assistance and could not believe that Mr. Musselman was speaking for the company when he takes a decided stand against the pool becoming operative this year, for not only in Saskatchewan but Alberta also. I know that he does not speak for the farmers of Saskatchewan, who have already signed up to deliver 2,500,000 acres of wheat to the pool—a large number of whom are shareholders of the company.

Light frosts have been visiting this section during the past week.

The most of the wheat has been harvested, and most of the farmers are cutting oats.

Mrs W. B. Williams entertained the U.F.W. at the hall on Thursday afternoon. Considering the very busy season a goodly number of ladies attended.

Hugh Pritchard's team ran away with his new John Deere binder on Saturday. For a time all Hugh could do was holler, "Good-by, Dear John." The team ran into some brush, which stopped them, and fortunately no one was hurt although the harvester had to be considerably repaired.

Otto Magedans is another one of our genial farmers to suffer loss. While he and family were driving away from home the other day, and after leaving their gate a few rods behind, Otto discovered that the car was acting in a peculiar manner, and upon looking back discovered that his rear axle and a wheel were lying in the road. No one was injured, and a passing auto took the owner to Ponoka where repairs were available and the car will soon be spinning as good as ever.

Glen Falloch

The farmers are all in the fields harvesting a fine crop. Wheat looks like it would average 30 bus. and oats should go around 50.

Marcus Crandall had the misfortune to have his new Case separator damaged considerably by fire recently.

Mr and Mrs Reglin buried their eight months' old baby Tuesday, September 6th. The little one had been sick practically all its life. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Ike Tobler is harvesting his C.P.R land. It has made Shorty stretch and stand on his tip toes to keep his head above these oats.

The writer received word from one of the best agricultural parts of the States. Corn and all late crops are dried up, even to the weeds. The fruit was a failure. Wheat went from 80 to 1 bushels, but the taxes remained the same, running all the way from $150 to $200 per quarter. Alberta looks pretty good after all.

Dave Berklin has gone south to work during harvest.

A number of farmers around here did not sign the wheat pool, but will support it nevertheless.

Prince of Wales a Canadian Rancher

HIS Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will for a month or so become a sizable Canadian rancher. That he will travel incognito on his coming to Canada does not mean that he will travel incognito but that he will not take part in official functions or make official visits, and when approached with regard to his stay in the Canadian Dominion he has announced that his time will be fully taken up by the affairs of the E. P. ranch.

The Prince of Wales exhibits a deep and marked interest in the ranch he purchased near Calgary on his memorable visit of the Dominion, and his study to make it is but a fresh indication of the importance he attaches to it and the work it is doing. Immediately after purchasing the ranch, and before returning to England, the Prince made arrangements for the shipment of some of the best stock in the British Isles to the Canadian West. Thoroughbred horses came from the Royal stud, shorthorns from the King's farm, shropshire sheep from the Duke of Westminster's estate, and hardy Dartmoor ponies from the Devon moors. The latest importation consisted of a thoroughbred stallion and four mares of the finest obtainable in the British Isles. "Will Somers", which heads the stud at the E. P. ranch is a handsome five year old which at three years was the winner of several English classics.

Thus the Prince has demonstrated that his purchase of the ranch was not a matter of sentiment or commercial profit, but a genuine desire to foster the breeding of better livestock in the West. His efforts have been eminently successful. At all provincial exhibitions the animals from the High river ranch are attractive features, and last Fall, shorthorn cattle, constituting the first commercial sales the ranch has effected, commanded top prices.

Cattle from the E. P. exhibited at the stock show of the Calgary Stampede were heavy prize winners, and sheep and horses from the same ranch created an unparalleled standard.

The Royal rancher has planned to arrive at Quebec on September 12th on the Canadian Pacific steamship "Empress of France". The palatial liner, 18,000 tons, which was the flag ship of the 10th Cruiser Squadron on Northern patrol duty during the War is the most up-to-date vessel of its type and is most suited to the accommodation of its distinguished passenger. Reconditioned after the war, this ship is one of the most magnificent yet comfortable vessels in trans-Atlantic service. It holds the record for off... in large and comfortable suites and cabins, spacious promenade decks, numerous and excellently appointed public rooms and service facilities make the Empress one of the most popular ships in the Canadian Pacific fleet.

Accidents On Farms

Should Apply Safety First Principles On Farm Same As Elsewhere

Another thing for which this summer has been remarkable is the number of accidents, some of them with fatal termination, which have occurred to farmers while engaged in their daily avocations. Perhaps the most common of these misfortunes took place during the haying season, when farmers perched on the top of their loads fell to the ground and received serious bodily injury. It is just as important that life should be protected on the farm as in the factory, and there seems to be a slackness in this respect, so far as the farm is concerned. Prevention is better than cure, and there appears to be room for some "safety first" work in this direction.—The London Advertiser.

Britain Orders Latest Tanks

Self-Contained Fighting Unit Also Draws Artillery Into Action

British gun manufacturers have produced a new war weapon, says The Daily News. It takes the form of a tractor tank and is capable of drawing artillery into action in addition to being a self-contained fighting unit.

The tank is mounted with guns, has a turret and a special compartment in which it carries field artillery. Its range is twice that of the earlier tanks used in the war.

The British Government has planned an initial order for 33 of the new machines to cost $40,000 each.

They are the best medicine I know of for little ones and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Country Supplies Bulk of Material Used by Canada

Canada buys electrical apparatus almost entirely in the United States, according to a return giving the imports of articles of this nature in July, published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The total imports of electrical apparatus in that month were valued at $1,212,115, and of this a value of $1,079,836 came from the United States. The United Kingdom sent $92,000 worth, while Japan, with a value of about $9,000, came third.

Simple and Unpretentious

They look and see nothing but an expanse of bare canvas. They ask:

"What does that represent?"

"That? Why, that represents the peacock of the Israelites through the Red Sea."

"Beg pardon, but where is the sea?"

"It has been driven back."

"And where are the Israelites?"

"They have crossed over."

"And the Egyptians?"

"Will be here directly. That's the sort of painting I like—simple and unpretentious."—Art Record.

Chronic Sleepiness

If Not Relieved by Simple Measures Physician Should be Consulted

Less serious in its results on health and less distressing that insomnia, its opposite, morbid somnolence is nevertheless a trying condition, for it is likely to interfere quite with the performance of the daily duties. In its minor degrees the sleepy state comes on only in the evening. Many persons who have household or office work to engage their attention during the day are able to attend to it perfectly well, but immediately after the evening meal when they get down to read or to study they begin to nod and soon fall asleep. That is the common form of the trouble, but there are other degrees up to a condition like that which occurs in epidemic meningitis, popularly called "sleeping sickness."

The causes of evening somnolence are numerous. The most common is probably want of sufficient interest in what you are doing. For example, a person who is always sleepy in the evening would not be very likely—at least so we hope—to keep awake long enough to read this article through, though he might fall asleep over an article about the Federal Reserve Board. Another frequent cause is too heatry a meal at night; when that is the case the heaviest meal should be eaten at midday, and at night a cup of tea with a little bread and jam or crackers and cheese should suffice. Or chronic autointoxication may be at the root of the trouble. The general health may be at fault; the patient may be so anaemic, for example, that the brain does not receive enough blood. Of the condition may be the direct result of work; the available energy may be exhausted by the end of the day. Furthermore, many people do not give themselves long enough rest in bed. The amount of sleep needed varies, but as a rule seven or eight hours are necessary, and nature will exact them.

Sometimes the habit of trying to sleep may be conquered by jumping up at the first nod and walking about the room. Or sleep may be warded off for an hour or two by drinking a cup of tea or coffee without milk or cream. If those simple measures bring no relief, the family physician should be consulted, for there may be some general morbid state that needs correction.—From the Youth's Companion.

Showing Interest In Others

Including Yourself As One of Human Race Makes Outlook Different

When you begin to take an interest in other men, you notice, of course, that their lives are not like yours, not so important, nor interesting, nor promising. And in their dullness they are all curiously alike; they all, with slight variation, are born, are brought up, fall in love according to their lights, marry, earn their living, grow old and die. When this uniformity begins to interest you, you are making your first intelligent acquaintance with life; and when you have learned it all mankind and included yourself in the picture, when you have admitted, however reluctantly, that the single addition does not change the total effect, that life is still simple and uniform and that you are less peculiar than you thought—then, you have seen yourself as last as one of the human race.—From the Literary Discipline. By John Erskine.

Loan Scheme For Cattle Feeding

A loan scheme for cattle feeding among the farmers that will enable the farmers to feed and hold cattle to meet market requirements, has been announced by the Manitoba Cattle Loan Company. It is hoped the result will show a considerable increase in livestock in the province, with better return for the farmer.

Alberta is third among the provinces of Canada in the quantity and value of butter produced last year, being beaten out by Ontario and Quebec. Alberta produced 15,417,070 pounds, valued at $5,126,844.

Breaking Down War Ammunition

Half-Million Tons Made Harmless In Last Three Years

Surprising discoveries were made in breaking down half a million tons of British, French, Belgian and German ammunition during the last three years.

The work was undertaken by F. N. Pickett and Sons, of London, who carried out operations at some fifteen collecting depots in France. Workmen included Algerians, South African Negroes, Chinese, French, Belgians, Poles, Russians, Finns and British.

Despite the dangers of the undertaking, there were surprisingly few accidents.

"Of all the ammunition we handled, the safest was the British and the weakest the German," said Mr. Pickett, to a reboter.

"British designs for fuses seem to have been based on the assumption that the ammunition would have to be stored. They proved sound.

"The Germans, on the other hand, seem to have thrown together any material they could get without thought as to consequences when fuses are exposed to the air or weather.

"One of their fuses, known as the 'powder pellet,' exploded shells as soon as they were touched by the hand.

"In my opinion, the Germans were lacking in foresight. The wonderful stories we heard about their superior knowledge on ammunition were ill founded.

"The result was that breaking down the German ammunition was the most difficult problem to deal with. We had to burn the contents of the German fuses like a torch; the British we were able to wash out and preserve.

"Some of the bigger German shells were only half filled with explosive; sawdust, shop sweepings, plaster and sand, in some cases had been used instead. In many instances the Germans must have been deceived by their contractors.

"Among other things, we discovered a method of storing ammunition and minimizing the effect of an explosion by traverses and earthbags fixed at intervals between shells—as a result of experience, we found that it will be possible to store any quantity of shells in one dump without fear of a terrific explosion."

Cause of Earthquakes

Contraction of Gas Under Earth's Crust Results in Explosion

What causes eruptions. Untold ages back, our Earth consisted of a mass of whirling fiery gas. As this gradually cooled, a crust formed on the outside, and this crust is what we are living on.

During the cooling (which is still going on) cracks and weak spots were formed in the uneven crust, and it is along these lines of weakness that we get volcanoes (the name, by the way, is taken from Vulcan, the old god of fire).

Inside the crust of the earth is a mass of gas at a temperature higher than anything we can imagine. Whether this heat is at the core, or round the core, or even distributed in "pockets," we don't know, but we are certain that there is a single enormous heat somewhere under our earth's crust.

Any water that percolates through this enormous heat turns immediately into steam, and has to find an exit somewhere—generally through the crater of a volcano. Then, again, as the crust further cools and contracts, it compresses the gas inside until it has to explode somewhere.

Creamery Butter Production

Production Last Year Excellent that of Any Previous Year

The total quantity of creamery butter made in Canada in 1923 was 147,752,774 pounds valued at $51,830,780, an increase in quantity over the previous year of 19,009,164 pounds, or 14 per cent., and in value of $3,395,513, or 7 per cent. The production of creamery butter last year excelled that of any previous year.

The total quantity of cheese made in Canada last year was 136,579,473 pounds valued at $22,067,106, compared with 162,117,494 pounds valued at $28,719,629 in the previous year.

Electrical Laundry Machines

London is marvelling just now at some United States electrical laundry machines exhibited in the Agricultural Hall. Three hundred pounds of flannel articles can be ironed in an hour on an enormous roll machine that costs $10,000. It is the most powerful machine of its kind in the world. Thousands of shirts can be ironed by an electrical process that requires no labor. Another machine dries 400 garments in about five minutes from the time the electric current is switched on.

Reasons For Queer Habits

Japanese Have Logical Explanation For Doing Things Backwards

"When I first went to Japan," a long-time American resident of that country is reported in the "Type Metal Magazine" as saying, "they seemed to do everything the wrong way. They sawed wood by drawing the saw toward them. They backed their horses into the stalls. When our clocks are striking one, theirs would strike 11. Their blacksmiths worked sitting down and when they wanted to rest they stood up. But gradually I learned that there was a logical reason for each of these seemingly queer habits.

"Pulling the saw prevented buckling. "When are you in a hurry—when you put your horse in the stall or when you take him out" was the answer of the man who was questioned about the horse. As to the clock, it seems that the Japanese prefer to know how many hours are left in the day rather than how many have passed. And the blacksmith who sits down works with his feet as well as his hands—literally, he has four hands, and he rests all these when he gets up."

DIARRHOEA and VOMITING Doubled Up With Pains

If you are suddenly attacked with diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps or pains in the stomach or any looseness of the bowels do not waste valuable time but at once procure a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and see how quickly it will relieve you.

Mr. Ernest Morris, 3 Webb St., London, Ont., writes:—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for what it has done for me.

"For some time I took an awful violent headache, then started to vomit and felt sick I could not stand it all day; towards evening intense pains came in my bowels and I was just doubled up, the pains were so bad; the perspiration stood out like beads on my forehead; then the diarrhoea started and I really thought I was going to die.

My husband went to the drug store and got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; he gave me a dose, at intervals, and the following next day the diarrhoea had stopped and the pain was all gone too.

Now I will never be without Dr. Fowler's in the house."

Huge Bell In U.S. Church

A church in Cincinnati, O., claims to have the largest bell in the United States and next to the one at Moscow, the largest in the world. This bell is 10 feet in diameter and 12 feet high and weighs 30,000 pounds. When it was hung a number of years ago the deep tones shattered windows in nearby buildings and threatened to shake the supporting tower to pieces. Since then it is sounded only by tapping it with a hammer.

Army Officers Taking Up Land

Several Indian army officers have this summer taken up land in the Okanagan and are doing very well. In addition several Canadian veterans have come into the district under the aegis of the Soldier Settlement Board. They are of a fine type and will eventually secure valley land themselves.

To be absolutely safe in the summer one has to stay off the street, out of the water, out of autos, trains and interurbans. How glorious our civilization is!—Ann Arbor Times-News.

Demand For Paper On Ocean Liners

Management Has Found it Necessary To Instal Faster Presses

Because, according to the management, "the demand has been larger than could have been predicted," new and faster printing presses will shortly be installed on the Cunard liners to print the Daily Mail Atlantic Edition. This paper is set in type, rolled and published each day that the liners are at sea. The ships publishing the Daily Mail Atlantic Edition are the Berengaria, Aquitania, Mauretania, Carmania, Franconia, Tyrrhenia, Laconia, Caronia, Samaria and Scythia.

Installation of linotype machines on the first three ships listed above is the latest forward step in this new branch of journalism. Twice a day by arrangement with the Radio Communication Company, important news events are wirelessed to the ships on the Atlantic. The subscription price is one shilling and threepence for the voyage. Single copies are sold at threepence.

Manslaughter In 2nd Degree

Using a razor—bad stuff—but many people do it for their corns. The only remedy that is painless and sure is Putnam's Corn Extractor, which does remove warts and corns, cleans them right off. Refuse a substitute for "Putnam's," 25c everywhere.

Canada Foremost Wheat Grower

A cablegram received at Ottawa from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome summarizing the world's wheat conditions places Canada in the foremost position as a source of supply for the world's wheat markets. The prospective shipments from principal wheat exporting countries are placed as follows: Canada, 290 million bushels; United States, 180 millions; Argentina, 120 millions; Australia, 40 millions; India, 20 millions; Russia, 20 millions; Balkans, 10 millions.

A Power of Its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has a noble power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

Beauties of Canada

New Posters Depicting Scenes of Great Beauty Issued by C. N. Railways

Combining the best work of artists and printers and setting forth the beauties of Canada in a manner which appeals instantly to the eye, a new series of posters is being issued by the Canadian National Railways and are now being placed on display in the offices of the system and elsewhere in the Dominion and other countries. The grandeur of the Rockies, typified by Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, is the theme of one of the posters, while another shows a magnificent view of Mount Edith Cavell and Lac Beauvert, all of which are on the lines of the National system.

The glint of sun upon placid waters, with motor boats and other craft in the foreground and Minaki Inn in the background, careless to intending tourists a message of the beauties of that section of Ontario which lies just 114 miles east of Winnipeg.

The Lake of the Woods and Port Arthur are depicted in a poster showing the lake and rail route offered to tourists travelling between Eastern and Western Canada, a deck scene on the S.S. Noronic being the medium through which the poster tells its story of a pleasant journey which may be enjoyed as one sails down their inland seas.

In his poster design of the Lower St. Lawrence, the artist has triumphed and the printer has added the touch of his craft to the result. An aged inhabitant with his ox-cart full of fragrant new hay has ascended a steep hill at the foot of which nestles a quaint old village which in Canada could be found only in Lower Canada.

Protecting Elk Herds

The elk herds on Vancouver Island, north of Cowichan Lake, are to have a reservation of forty square miles, and the British Columbia Game Board is now engaged in making necessary improvements so that real protection may be afforded this rare species of big game. There are said to be about 300 head of elk in the immediate vicinity of North Cowichan Lake.

A Substantial Profit

On a turnover of $4,107,259 the co-operative associations of Saskatchewan earned a net profit of $110,997 during the fiscal year ending April 30th, 1923, according to the annual report of the co-operation and markets branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Advance In Fur Prices

Furs to the value of $250,000, 90 per cent. of which went to New York, London and Paris buyers, were sold at the opening of the fur auction sale at Montreal. Beaver, silver fox and bear were in keen demand, beaver advancing 20 per cent., silver fox 50 per cent., and bear 10 per cent.

Cow-Testing Progress

Five Provinces Show Considerable Increase in Number of Herds Tested

There were 502 cow-testing centres, 2,685 dairy herds under test, and 36,203 tests conducted this year, mainly under the supervision of Dominion dairy officials, up to the end of June last. Five of the provinces show a considerable increase in the number of herds tested. Saskatchewan shows the largest percentage of increase, with New Brunswick next in line and Alberta a close third. The increase in Saskatchewan is largely due to the efficient work of provincial officials. In British Columbia, with five organized co-operative associations, approximately two thousand cows are tested each month.

Internally and Externally it is Good.—The cleansing property of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colds and many kindred ailments it has qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

The Vandal's Trail

Evidence of Malicious Destruction Seen by Visitors to War Zone

Visitors to the war zone in recent months have been able to see evidence of the French efforts in the changing appearance of the terrain. But all can still see the evidence of malicious destruction. Intended or perpetrated by the German leaders, which makes the case against the German nation so black. In the pillars of St. Quentin Cathedral, for instance, the ninety holes are still discernible which the Germans drilled to contain high explosive and so to destroy that noble building. Fortunately the Allies advanced too fast for them to carry out this devilish plan.—London Daily Mail.

A Butterfly Farm

Would Raise Insects in California for Color and Decorations

An application for permission to establish a butterfly farm on public domain in the Angels Forest reserve has been made to Supervisor R. H. Charlton, Los Angeles, Cal., by John Howlett, of Hacienda, California.

Hewlett stated that if permission were granted to him to use forty acres for that purpose, he would plant the entire tract to what he believes butterflies like particularly, and would raise the insects for color and decorations.

Predicts Doctors Will Teach Health

Instead of Disease Being Cured it Will Be Prevented

Dr. J. C. Lawson, of Los Angeles, made the prediction that the world is not far away from the time when the doctors will be teachers of health instead of doctors of disease. He contends that disease was not an entity, but an abnormal condition. Fear and pessimism in civic and physical life were destructive and had to be overcome by their opposites—optimism and knowledge. When people knew what health was and how it could be maintained, there would be no need for fear. He instanced the various conceptions of disease and how they all had one common cure.

SASKATCHEWAN POOL IS SHORT

Regina, Sept. 11.—Headquarters of the Saskatchewan wheat pool yesterday received through the mails 2,500 contracts covering 340,358 acres. This brings the total number of signed contracts actually received at the offices up to 30,256, representing 2,868,922 acres in White Bear municipality, the pool has no idea of the number of signed contracts in the country which have not yet been forwarded, sufficient information has reached headquarters to indicate that at least another million acres have been signed up in some of the municipalities, in addition to which there are many constituencies from which no reports have been received.

Taking into account the facts on which some information has been received it is safe to say that at least four million acres have been signed up or two thirds of the required quota. With two more days to go a final effort is being made to reach the objective by Wednesday night. A million acres a day for these last two days will turn the trick it is pointed out.

CRISIS EXISTING BETWEEN ITALY AND SERBIA

Athens, Sept. 11.—The crisis between Italy and Serbia over the Fiume question is causing grave anxiety here, where it is looked upon as a possible menace to immediate adjustment of the Greco-Italian situation. It is feared that in the event of hostilities Italy will find some pretext to continue the occupation of Corfu.

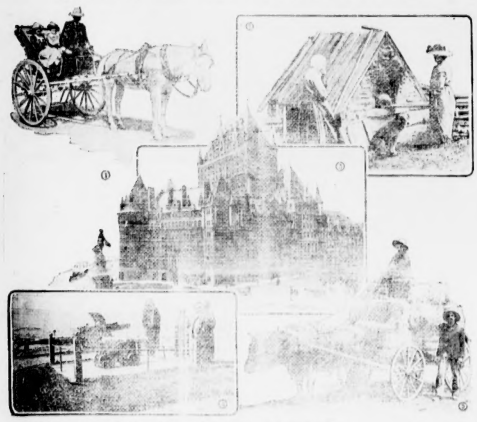
Quebec, the Old World Province



1. The Citadel, a means of conveyance much favored by visitors in quiet
2. An old brick store, the like of which many of the old streets contain
3. Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, the most widely known hotel in America
4. Ancient and modern. The little wooden cottage and the towering citadel by the side of a lumber-laden ship in the harbor
5. Trench their fences are notches in the rock country.

THESE are just a few pictures taken in Quebec. But not without reason that this province is the tourist resort of the continent, for it has the utmost fascination and intrigue. Quebec has a world atmosphere all its own and, if it can be said, is more world atmosphere than has the old city of Quebec is the eighteenth century beauties with the twentieth, yet retaining its identity.

One steps at little wayside shrines, crosses, the patron saints of the province almost unchanged since the days of Champlain. A woman at her distaff, the whitewashed cottages, hand transport and to the ultimate in motor, original settlers came. Yet, one finds the little hedge or cedar fence the crop with its modern implements, the little barn. Behind, the lure of the you that you are not in France. But it is not enough, though the hot train thunders.

Near the white walls the life of the water from the mid-channel and in an old brick convent as ancestors in France four centuries own wool and spin it as her though not old-fashioned, is really era. A kindly hospitality and backward to welcome the visitor convent of the Ursuline Sisters Louisville. And her husband, to wear the homespun, to sit threshold at night to smoke and drive five miles of sandy road buggy or in the cool of the day farm, but he knows how to farm knows how to farm.

The Quebec farmer is a happy fellow. Very few cares trouble his quiet, peaceful, and does 'habitant' get as much out of life as he does. It is an old world, full of charm, while you sit with him and look you will see that he gets his share.
